

The programmes could include watching a DVD of J. Krishnamurti followed by a dialogue and an interactive questioning.

We would like to communicate with persons interested in starting small, informal study groups based on J. Krishnamurti's teachings. An exhibition of books and photographs can also be organized.

The Study Centre (KFI) Bangalore has a Kannada newsletter 'Sahapayana' and also a e-newsletter to keep in touch with interested persons.

Please communicate with us at least two months in advance for organizing a programme in your institution or town.

Learning in Sharing

We invite you to explore a wholly different way of inquiring and living. It can enable us to address our deep individual and social concerns. The interaction is to explore our life in the light of 'The Teachings' of J.Krishnamurti.

Krishnamurti Foundation India (KFI)
The Study Centre - Bangalore

Jiddu Krishnamurti (1895-1986) is regarded globally as one of the greatest thinkers and religious teachers of all time. He did not expound any philosophy or religion, but rather talked of the things that concern all of us in our everyday lives, of the problems of living in modern society with its violence and corruption, of the individual's search for security and happiness, and the need for mankind to free itself from inner burdens of fear, anger, hurt, and sorrow. He stated that "Truth is a pathless land, and you cannot approach it by any path whatsoever, by any religion, by any sect." He travelled around the world for seventy years to share his insights in daily life with human beings.

The intent of this interaction is to understand oneself in the various human dimensions.

Some fundamental questions need to be asked. The answers are not in words, thought or knowledge, but in perception, in finding out for oneself first hand - why do we live in conflict?

J. Krishnamurti's original works are available in English language in the form of books, audios and DVDs. The Study Centre, Bangalore (KFI) is engaged in translating his books into Kannada language. So far twenty books have been published. We wish to communicate with interested groups and educational institutions in various parts of Karnataka in Kannada language.

Such an interaction can be arranged in your town or organization. We are especially interested to interact with the young people who plan to venture in the field of education.

The questions that we would address are:

- ◆ What is learning?
- ◆ Can we pursue what we love to do?
- ◆ What is fear and desire?

As responsible human beings, we need to address the human aspects of sorrow, suffering, death and the consequences of religious dogmas, divisions created by nationalistic attitudes and the consumerist lifestyles that we live.

Self-knowledge is the beginning of wisdom, it is a field of affection, warmth, and love, therefore a field rich with flowers.

Surely, freedom from the self, and therefore the search for reality, the discovery and the coming into being of reality, is the true function of man.
